

BOW VALLEY RESOURCE

Including Arrowwood, Milo, Queenstown, Shouldice and Mossleigh

Volume 6, No. 1

ARROWWOOD, ALTA., SEPT. 17, 1936

Subscription $2.00, U.S.A. $2.50

Financial Position of Alberta Pacific Grain Co. Limited

Operations of The Alberta Pacific Grain Company Limited for the year ended June 30th last resulted in a loss of $12,414.52 compared with a profit of $4,491.13 for the previous year, according to the financial statements made public recently by H. E. Sellers, President of the company. Bond interests of $164,283.67 was met and $351,332.93 added to depreciation reserves.

In view of the uncertainty of the outlook for the coming year on account of the poor harvest in Western Canada, necessity of considering further extension of suspension of sinking fund operations in connection with the Company's $3,500,000.00 First Mortgage bond issue will be considered by the Directors during the current year, the report indicates.

The report of the Directors to the Shareholders states, in part:

"Further improvement of $284,253.47 in working capital position was effected during the year. The arrangements to be made with the First Mortgage Bondholders in 1934 for the suspension of Sinking Fund payments for a period of three years, expired on June 1st, last. The result of operations during the current year will be the deciding factor on whether application for an extension of suspension of Sinking Fund payments will be made to the Bondholders.

"Drought conditions returned to the Prairie Provinces again this year for the seventh time in the past eight years, and indications are that the 1936 crop will be the smallest harvest since 1919.

"Company's properties have been maintained in good repair. Taxation on land has been a heavy burden in the operations of the Company. During the year under review an amount of $92,070.80 was contributed to Dominion, Provincial and Municipal governments at bodies in the form of direct taxes."

The Alberta Pacific is one of largest elevator companies operating in Canada. The Company operates 371 country elevators located throughout Saskatchewan and Alberta, and terminal elevators at Vancouver.

Directors and Officers of the Company are: H. E. Sellers, President; C. K. Allen, General Manager; Cecil Lamont, Sec.; J. Bingley, Treas.; A. F. Culver, Montreal; C. W. Bond, Toronto; H. W. Webster, Winnipeg; L. Killam, Vancouver and R. W. Ward, Calgary, Directors.

The annual general meeting of shareholders will be held in Calgary, Oct. 27th.

Peterson-Porter

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, September 12th, at Central United Church, Calgary, uniting Lillian, only daughter of Mrs. James Porter, and Conrad B. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Peterson. The bridegroom is well known in the Milo district and the bride in Calgary. Rev. M. E. Aitken officiated. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Peterson will reside in Milo, Alberta, after a short stay in Calgary.

C. G. Taylor's Pop Corn Experiment a Success

Arrowwood was alive with activity last Saturday when Mr. C. G. Taylor, well known station agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., commenced harvest operations on his twenty acres of popping corn. Utilizing all the available help that could be secured, by the afternoon twenty men and boys and three girls were determined to find the first "Red Ear," but this is to be found some following day, as Mr. Taylor's corn is a dark blue variety and the anxiously sought "Red Ear" does not appear very often.

Mr. Taylor reports that considering the extremely dry season his yield is very satisfactory and will support his contention that corn can be profitably grown in the famous wheat district of Arrowwood, where very few failures have been experienced in the past 15 years.

The whole community joins in congratulating Mr. Taylor on being the first to produce high grade popping corn on a commercial scale in this district and establishing for Alberta a record in another new production.

The Game Act, 1936

Extracts from the Game Act, 1936, of particular interest to hunters of this district:

Persons Entitled to Hunt without License

Any person who—
(a) is a resident within the meaning of this Act;
(b) is in the occupation of land as owner, purchaser, lessee or homesteader which is used for farming purposes; and
(c) resides and carries on the business of a farmer or rancher upon such land or some part thereof—as well as any member of such person's household, may hunt, take, shoot at, wound and kill game birds without any license as long as the hunting during such time as any person holding a game bird license.

Live Decoys and Rifles Prohibited

5. (a) No person shall for the purpose of taking, capturing, killing or destroying any migratory waterfowl, use or employ any live decoys.
(b) No person shall kill any migratory game birds with a rifle of any kind.

Porcupines Not Protected

6. In addition to the animals specially mentioned in Sec. 9 of the Game Act, any person may hunt, take or kill any Porcupine.

Open Season for Big Game

9. The holder of a Big Game License or a General Game License may hunt, shoot at, take or kill—
(a) mountain sheep and mountain goat between the 1st day of Sept. and the 31st day of Oct. Both dates inclusive
(b) deer, moose and caribou, Nov. 2nd to Dec. 14th. Both dates inclusive.

(c) bear from Sept. 1st to June 14th.
(d) the holder of a Special Elk License may hunt, take or kill one male elk with head of eight points or over in the Pembina-Brazeau Elk Reserve and adjacent areas from Oct. 1st to Dec. 14th—both dates inclusive. provided, however, Elk may be taken in that part of the Pembina-Brazeau Elk Reserve lying within the Brazeau Forest between Sept. 15th and Dec. 14th—both dates inclusive.

A Campaign of Falsehood

The opponents of the present methods of grain marketing are using freely the weapons of abuse and misrepresentation in endeavour to discredit the grain trade, to force their own policies upon the country and to obtain an unfair advantage for the Pools at the country elevator points.

The Following Facts Are True:

1. The Western Pools are and have been, since their inception members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. They continually use the facilities of the Exchange for the benefit of their customers.

2. When representatives of the grain trade were called upon to give advice to the Dominion Government in 1935 concerning the establishment of a Wheat Board, they appeared publicly before a Parliamentary Committee. On that occasion, as the first witnesses called, they advised the Government to appoint a Wheat Board, to provide a minimum price for the protection of farmers and to use every available channel to market Canadian wheat and maintain Canada's place in the wheat markets of the world. The representatives of the Western Pools, on the same occasion, demanded the Wheat Board Bill in its original form under which no provision was made for a minimum price but only for the establishment of a compulsory marketing system.

3. The Winnipeg Grain Exchange is one in the chain of world's grain markets. It is a meeting place for all buyers and sellers of grain. The grain trade has no quarrel with those who think a better govt. should be formed, but the date no one has discovered a method of marketing that will better serve the interests of the farmers.

4. It is the responsibility of the grain trade that the farmer should obtain the best possible prices for his product and the maximum Government support in the hour of his need. The interest of the grain trade is not this at variance with that of grain growers; on the contrary, the grain trade recognizes keenly that the prosperity of agriculture is essential to the well-being of the Dominion and all of its industries, including its own.

5. No line elevator company, any more than a Pool elevator company, designs to make profit from the fluctuation of grain prices, which are determined by numerous causes that are not and cannot be controlled by the grain trade, the Wheat Board or the Pools.

6. As has been stated before on numerous occasions, in the plainest possible terms, the grain trade and the Winnipeg Grain Exchange have made no representations to the Government against the fixing of a high minimum price nor in favour of the dis-establishment of the Wheat Board or the curtailment of its activities.

The Following Quoted Statements Are False.

The Western Producer, which is the organ of the Saskatchewan Pool, states in its issue of September 10, 1936, that the Government has decreed the death of the Wheat Board and thereby has complied with the express desire of the grain trade. THIS IS FALSE. The grain trade has expressed no such desire.

2. The same paper, in the same issue, states, "The work of a generation is to be scuttled and if its present intentions are carried out next year, and for many years thereafter, the farmers, if they have a crop, are to be thrown to the wolves of the Grain Exchange." This statement is merely abusive and its implications libellous, if it is intended to mean that the members of the Grain Exchange, which comprises all the elevator companies (including the Pools), the mills and merchants, both foreign and domestic, who compete for the sale of the Western Canadian crop, are organized for the purpose, not of service to the producer but to prejudice his interest, this statement is not only false but must be known to be false to the editor and owner of this paper.

3. The following statement is contained in a circular forwarded to various organizations throughout Western Canada by the Saskatchewan Provincial President of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation: "The Government, by setting the pegged price at 87¢, basis No. 1 Nor. Fort William—7¢ to the farmer—has taken money from you and given it to the Grain Exchange." This statement is false and can only be based upon complete ignorance or extreme malice. No line elevator company, any more than any Pool elevator, designs to make any profit from the fluctuations of grain prices. The grain trade challenges the gentleman who made this statement to explain it and to prove it. It is inconceivable that the Western Pools and the elevator companies who have served the producer of Western Canada for so many years, efficiently and honourably, should be willing to continue to belong to an institution which is organized for any such evil purpose.

4. The numerous statements being made throughout the country by propounders that the grain trade is desirous of anything but the welfare of the farmer, or has brought pressure upon the Government with reference to the Wheat Board or the wheat policy of Canada, is untrue.

Note. It is understood that a Commission will shortly inquire into the grain marketing system. The grain trade invites those who have made the above statements and similar misrepresentations of fact, to appear before the Commission and support their statements by evidence and argument.

LOCAL LINE ELEVATORS

taken in that part of the Pembina-Brazeau Elk Reserve lying within the Brazeau Forest between Sept. 15th and Dec. 14th—both dates inclusive.

Open Season for Game Birds
The holder of a General Game License or a Game Bird License

The W.A. Well Attended

Eighteen members and six visitors of the W.A. of the Arrowwood United Church were entertained at the home of Mrs. E. H. Bishop, on Thursday, September 10th, assisted by Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. R. Fonger, and after the singing of Harvest Hymn, the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. R. E. Hill, followed by the Lord's Prayer in union.

Mrs. R. H. Bishop, Sunshine Convener, read a letter of thanks, received from the Supply Secretary of the Calgary W.M.S., in appreciation for parcel of clothing sent for needy children. Mrs. Bishop also reported that five dollars had been donated to the Missionary Fund of the Arrowwood United Church.

Mrs. E. J. Lissman, Convener for the Sewing and Fancy Work Committee, gave a very pleasing report. All sewing material and fancy work having been disposed of and a number of finished articles and donations already handed in for the Fall Bazaar.

A motion that the W.A. serve a supper in October carried and a Committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. The date to be decided later. The Amateur Hour Committee was asked to make plans to present their program in conjunction with this supper.

Plans to resume rehearsals in the near future, for the play which was postponed in the spring, owing to weather and road conditions, were also discussed and it is hoped the play may be presented the early part of December.

The President, in behalf of the W.A., extended a cordial welcome to the guests present and asked for the loyal support and co-operation of all ladies interested in church work. Four new members were enrolled.

At the conclusion of the business program, the ladies enjoyed a vocal solo rendered by Mrs. E. Lovendon, also a piano selection by Miss Patricia Colman, after which the hostesses served a delicious lunch.

United Church Notes

Rev. W. C. Lyle will conduct the service in the United Church Sunday, owing to the absence of Rev. J. N. Wilkinson. The service will commence at 11:45 a.m. sharp.

Stores Will Resume Weekly Half Holiday

The stores of Arrowwood will resume the Thursday half-holiday on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 24th.

Figure of Speech

"Hello, Jack, I'm back. Know of any jobs?"

"Hi, Winnie, I thought you were with the adding machine company."

"No! I went in, but they gave me a test—gave me a lot of examples to do on the machine. But when I finished, I just wrote 'Mac West' on the bottom of the sheet and walked out."

"Mac West—why did you write that under the examples?"

"I don't 'em wrong."—Investment Dealers' Digest.

C.P.R. Tree Planting Car Will Be Here Sept. 18th-22nd

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company announce that a Tree Planting Car, will arrive at Arrowwood on Friday, Sept. 18th, at 1:30 p.m. and will be stationed here until 1 p.m. on Tuesday.

The Tree Planting Car is sent to this community by the Canadian Forestry Association through the courtesy of the railway companies and a group of subscribers who defray all the expenses. The object of the tour is to encourage the planting of trees as wind-breaks to prevent soil drifting, to moderate the wind damage to grain crops, to help conserve moisture and to beautify farm surroundings.

On Monday, Sept. 21st at 8 p.m., a moving picture lecture will be given. Two hours of educational entertainment will be given. No admission fee or charge of any kind.

This Tree Planting Car will be stationed at Mossleigh from 2 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 22nd till 12:45 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23rd.

Milo, 3:40 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23rd to 10:50 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 24th.
Queenstown, 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, 24th to 2:30 p.m. on Friday.

Mrs. Nevra Passes Away at Calgary

"Mrs. Asa Elvida Nevra, 33 years of age, wife of O. Nevra, of Harell, Alberta, died Sunday afternoon in a local hospital following a brief illness. Born in Hooksund, Norway, the late Mrs. Nevra came to Canada nine years ago. For the past two and a half years she had resided at Harell. Surviving are her husband, an infant son; her parents, three sisters and two brothers in Norway, and a brother in United States. She was a member of the Norwegian Lutheran Church in this city—Calgary, Alberta.

The late Mrs. Nevra was well known here, having lived in the Buffalo Hill district for a number of years where she made many friends.

BARGAINS FARES

For Fall Travel

to

EASTERN CANADA

Sept 19 to Oct 3

CHOICE OF TRAVEL
IN COACHES - TOURIST
OR STANDARD SLEEPERS
Fares slightly higher for Tourist or Standard Sleepers in addition to usual berth charges

Return Limit 45 Days
in addition to date of sale
STOPOVERS ALLOWED at Stations. Train Service and East
Pac. Fares. Ticket Return. See Apply
Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Adds Zest to the Meal

To Burn Or Not To Burn

There will be few people in Western Canada, whether farmers, business men or wage earners who will quarrel with the policy which resulted in the announcement of the Canada Grain Board's establishment of a minimum price of 87½ cents for No. 1 Northern wheat f.o.b. Port William.

Regardless of political affiliations or economic beliefs the general public in the west greeted the announcement with approval as soon as it was made, and it is to be hoped, it will be accorded general backing in the east as well.

But the extent to which this policy will ensure to the benefit of Western farmers, who are hard pressed as a result of a prolonged period of drought, followed this year by a most disappointing situation as a result of wide-spread ravage of the wheat crops by rust, will depend upon the price spreads which, at the time of writing, are expected to be announced any day.

As harvesting and threshing operations progress, the amount of damage from rust is being daily revealed as a disaster of immense proportions, and while estimates of the extent of the loss sustained by farmers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan vary from day to day, it is quite apparent that the final figures will show a loss of great magnitude.

The rust which invaded large tracts of the best wheat growing areas of the west with such devastating effect, has not only reduced yields of what earlier in the season promised to be abundant crops but it has depreciated the grades to an extent comparable with the lowered yields.

At the moment there are thousands of acres of low grade wheat standing in the field awaiting the time when the grain is sufficiently dry to ensure a good burn because it does not pay to cut it.

Before taking this drastic action to destroy a lot of grain which conceivably may be of some value at a future date, farmers would be well advised to at least await the promised announcement of spreads prices. It is quite possible that the spreads may be set at such figures that even the lowest grade wheat can be threshed and stored on the farm without too serious loss to the grower.

The Federal government has recognized the loss sustained by farmers through drought, and as a national calamity and it is surely reasonable to suppose that the loss from rust this year will be regarded in the same category and that recognition will be given to the fact when minimum prices for the lower grades are set.

No one can gainsay the statement that the blame for damage by rust cannot be laid at the farmer's door. Rust damage is just as much a national calamity as the drought loss of recent years, and this being the case, there is every reason why the national power strings should be loosened to relieve the predicament in which such a large number of Western farmers find themselves with winter knocking at the door.

It must be remembered that the grain about to be delivered to the flames has already cost the farmer something in outlay of labor and would cost more if it were cut, threshed and hauled to the elevator.

Unfortunately the present market price is too low to cover all these costs without taking into consideration any margin of profit for the farmer who raised the grain.

If the crop is destroyed by fire not only does the grower lose what he has already put into it in cash and labor, but it represents a loss to the country at large. If he will worth the country's while to advance the farmer at least sufficient money to save the grain by way of a fixed minimum price, thus salvaging what has already been spent on the crop and perhaps saving what might otherwise have to be expended later in the form of relief.

Such a measure might well be regarded in the light of a partnership between the individual and the nation for the mutual benefit of both.

There is also the question of the effect on the morale of the unfortunate grower. After losing a series of crops from drought the economic necessity of burning a crop which was not very long ago promising must have a disheartening effect on the stoutest heart. If this effect can be averted without serious financial loss to the country, it may be well worth the expenditure.

Flies Prefer Orange Color

Prinrose Yellow Is Second Choice And Carmine Third

It's this way with flies—third rather than an orange than a cucumber, if the choice depends on color. Such was the deduction announced at the conclusion of the experiment conducted recently as a result of scientific observation of color preferences of multitudes of flies. A huge checker-board with eleven-inch squares in various colors was hung up in the dairy barn of the university's college of agriculture. The flies were invited to come and make themselves at home. For three months this went on until Lester J. Berry, graduate student in charge of the experiment, and his aides kept watch. The tabulated results announced by Berry follow: Not less than 10,772 flies perched on the orange square while only 2,067 sought out the green. Prinrose yellow drew 6,541; carmine, 4,415; light blue, 3,460; and white, 2,380. More esthetic flies went after coral red and pink.

A New Racket

If you get a letter telling you a relative has died and asking $30 be forwarded to cover cost of a certified copy of the supposedly dead person's will, the chamber of commerce of Hamilton, Ont., advises the recipient not to answer it. They explained it is the latest swindle racket operated from Montreal.

Buried Eloquence

The mayor had just laid the foundation stone of a new wing for the hospital, and the spectators awaited his speech.

"What can I do?" cried the harassed mayor, to his wife. "I've laid the stone on top of it."

The great problem of taxation is how to make the other fellow pay.

Safety Campaign

Automobile Fatalities On Roads In British Isles

Bad as the slaughter on the roads continues to be, we do not think there is any ground for the gloomy view that the safety campaign is more or less played out. It takes a long time to build up the habit of self-protection amid the dangers of the road, says the London Daily Herald.

The fact that fatalities and injuries are below those of last year is pretty convincing proof that safety habits are gaining ground, and there is no good reason whatever for believing the improvement has ceased. Indeed, the ministry of transport's analysis of accidents by age-groups indicates once again where education and propaganda should be directed with special energy. Only one-tenth of the killed were 15 to 24. One-third were over 55.

One half—a tragic figure—were under 15. It is clearly the young and the old who are in the greatest danger, and upon them should be concentrated the warnings and instructions of the campaign.

Infant Prodigy

Twenty Months Old Child Has A Vocabulary Of 1,100 Words

Little Jackie Grib, who can rattle off more words and sentences than a younger three times his age, said "holly smokes" and set about showing Dr. Bryng Bryngdson of Minneapolis, how a left-handed 20-month-old boy speaks the English language with the 1,100 words he knows. When he got through with Dr. Bryngdson, director of the University of Minnesota speech clinic, who said, "Holly smokes! He is distinctly a genius at 20 months."

FASHION FANCIES

930

SKIRT, BLOUSE, JACKET SUIT—DAUGHTER JUST AT AGE TO APPRECIATE SOMETHING SMART FOR FALL DAYS

By Ellen Worth.

Growing daughter will just adore a little three-piece suit like this for first fall school days. It's so very practical, too, because these little Brown and aqua checked argyle woolens made the model picture. The detachable collar and cuffs of the jacket, matched the plain brown wool pipey blouse. Plain queen blue cotton broadcloth blouse, would also be lovely by way of a change.

Twenty cotton in dark blue is effective with plain bright red cotton under for the blouse, collar and cuffs of this easily made suit.

Style No. 920 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2½ yards of 35-inch material for skirt and jacket and 1½ yards of 35-inch material for blouse, collar and cuffs with 1 yard of 35-inch ribbon for bow.

Patterns 15c each. Address mail orders to: Pattern Department, Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 170 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Our Fashion Magazine is beautifully illustrated and color. Send for your copy today. The price is 15 cents.

Parliament In Jerusalem

Arabs Expect Early Establishment Of Council In Palestine

Early establishment of a legislative council in Palestine is considered certain Arab leaders are merely awaiting a British "Order in Council" establishing the parliament before disclosing their position, it was stated by Mirat-Ash-Sharqan, semi-weekly Arab newspaper. The Jews of Palestine have made it clear that under no conditions will they accept a legislative council at this time.

Bomb Shelter De Luxe

City Of Paris Making Provision For Air Raids

Thirty feet under the ground in the Avenue Foch, one of the most fashionable residential streets in Paris, a model concrete shelter has been constructed for use in the event of air raids. The shelter consists of several rooms equipped with all conveniences, including apparatus for detecting the presence of poison gas outside. It will serve as the model for many more which are to be built by the city of Paris. It is built under a mansion. Its roof is a block of concrete six feet thick. Above this is 10 feet of earth then a one-foot thick block of concrete, and finally another layer of earth. Two stairways lead to the shelter, and at the foot of each is a steel and concrete door weighing a ton. There are special rooms for giving first aid to injured persons, machine rooms for light and ventilation purposes and storerooms. Although it is connected with the city's regular light supply, the shelter is equipped with generators and batteries for providing its own light if necessary.

China Has New Tax

After Next May These Who Cannot Read Will Be Fined

China has announced that after May 1, 1936, anyone in Nanking between the ages of six and fifty who cannot read will be fined. Appalled at the ignorance of the people of the Chinese authorities have issued a primer of 100 characters and ordered students to teach the ignorant from it or give up hope of graduation. As half the population of the city cannot read, the students will be kept busy until the new law goes into effect. The police will be the official examiners, and will stop anyone they wish who if he fails to read the primer, will have to pay the equivalent of half a cent on the spot. The penalty is called the Ignorant People's Tax.

Discovery About Artist

Michelangelo Had Hundreds Of Concealed Places In His Paintings

A discovery that hundreds of concealed faces look down from Michelangelo's paintings in the Sistine and Chapel of the Vatican, has been made by a Rome priest and art critic, Father Giuseppe Paronelli. It was in this way, Father Paronelli says, that Michelangelo pilfered his enemies or immortalized his friends. Cardinals and some of the great men of the papal court figured among Michelangelo's enemies. Father Paronelli mounted a lat scaffold and took minute photographs to complete his discovery.

Prince Starts New Fashion

The Prince of Wales started another craze in men's fashions when he appeared on the waterfront at Cannes, France, with a pleated cord belt fastened with a five-inch anchor. Dealers, swamped with orders, rushed demands to Paris wholesalers for thousands of similar belts. The heir to the British Throne wore the belt with a white sport suit.

It's bigger! It's richer! It lasts longer, too. This slow-burning Dixie Saves money for you.

LARGE PLUG 20¢

PLUG SMOKING TOBACCO

Jelly-Fish Kills Man

Sing Of Giant Type Proved Fatal To Italian

A sting by a giant jelly-fish has resulted in the death of Salvatore Cantarella, an Italian cane farmer near Brisbane. He was bathing at Coogarra Beach when he suddenly cried out loudly for help. His companions rushed out and pulled him ashore. He was given artificial respiration and restoratives but in vain, and he died on his way to the hospital. Pentacle marks were found on his body and it was at first thought that he had been attacked by an octopus. Later, however, it was found that he had been paralyzed by a giant "Portuguese Man of War," a type of jelly-fish that is found along the Queensland coast. These jelly-fish often have tentacles up to 12 feet long, and their stings are capable of causing temporary paralysis.

Lost Books Found

Volumes Missing For 41 Years Returned To Prince Albert Man

Two books which Alderman G. H. Carr of Prince Albert believed he had lost in Greenland 41 years ago when a member of Admiral Parry's 1893-94 North Pole expedition, turned up recently—in the mail. Carr was notified a parcel of books awaited him at the customs office. On opening the parcel he discovered his two volumes of Stanley's "In Darkest Africa," which he had read during the long Arctic night when the polar party waited to begin the futile dash for the North Pole. They had been discovered among Parry's effects and forwarded by the admiral's daughter, Mrs. Edwin Stafford, of Washington, D.C.

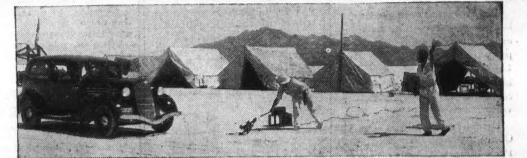

Large Sum For Relic

Pusey Horn Belonging To King Canute Sold In London

Symbolizing the holding of land by the tenure of the horn, or corrag, the Pusey Horn, a remarkable relic of King Canute was sold recently in London for $5,500. It was a heirloom of the Pusey family. In 1865 there was a dispute in the courts for the possession of the Pusey Horn. It was produced and identified as the one by which Canute conveyed the manor of Pusey (Berksire) 700 years before. The horn was the alarm to be given the arrival of the King's enemies. It will go into a private collection of antiquaries.

Some varieties of softwood are harder than hardwood.

NATURE'S OWN SALT-TREATED SPEEDWAY

While Canadian engineers and research scientists have been working out methods of creating good highway surfaces by treatment with common salt, the world's most famous salt-drivers have turned to natural salt-treated speedways for their world record attempts. Photo shows: A stock car speed test on the new speedway of the great salt desert in Utah where Sir Malcolm Campbell in his famous Bluebird set a new world's record and bettered 300 miles per hour.

Para-Sani

HEAVY WAXED PAPER

ADD IT TO YOUR SHOPPING LIST

HEAVY WAXED PAPER

WAREHOUSES AT CALGARY, EDMONTON, REGINA AND WINNIPEG

Wall Money

Wall is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

Wonderful new Children's Picture Book from the world's most famous artist. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

On the Wall Money only. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

WINDSOR SALT. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

Year Of All Month. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

Without obligation please send postal order. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

WINDSOR SALT. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

Address. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

MISS ALADDIN. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

By—Christine Whiting Farmer. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

Author of "One Wide River to Cross" and "The Unknown River". It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

SYNOPSIS. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home. It is a resource in that it is for use in the home.

Nancy Nelson is a sub-city, a girl, irresponsible girl, out of control, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses his home, and she is left with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home where she can be as free as the wind and where she seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy sets out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and misses the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's home. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help out while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes home to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy and Matthew Adam go Christmas shopping in a neighboring town. On their way back to Pine Ridge, Nancy is amazed to see the Columbine residence all in fire, and asks Matthew if he knows why. He said: Let's go in and see. Then Nancy learns that she is to have her debut, but in a different setting than had been planned for her in town.

Nancy's parents and friends gave her liberal support for her request for books, and a small library was in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adam boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorations to make the room look presentable.

Now Go On With The Story CHAPTER XVII.—Continued.

It was that evening, seated before a crackling hearth-fire at the Adam ranch, that Cousin Columbine told them the story of the Pemperion hoax. Jack had been asking about a pathetic little cemetery he passed one day when doing an errand for Mr. Adam.

"It's on a hillside back from the road," he told them. "Most of the graves seem to be for children and young people. There was never a small epidemic in these parts, Cousin Columbine? It seemed strange finding a cemetery way out there."

"He means that little burying ground near West Creek, doesn't he?" questioned Jack Adam.

"Not if West Creek's a town," responded Jack.

"Do you recall a mile or so farther on, passing a dwelling house and two ramshackle buildings that looked set to collapse at the first high wind?" asked Cousin Columbine.

Jack nodded, and the old lady continued: "Those buildings, and that wayward country, are all that remain to tell the tale of a prodigious hoax which was planned and carried out successfully by old Marsh Pemperion. You Adams have heard the story many times."

"Never from you," Eve Adam reminded them. "That ageless Cousin Columbine. You saw the place in its heyday, I suppose."

"I surely did; and to one of my eyes it did not even seem ancient. The Pemperion boom was started in 1884, soon after the boom at Cripple Creek. I dare say that as a child, Eve, you heard your people mention it, for the news must have spread much farther than Denver. You see, the general feeling in those days was that all these mountains were lined with gold, and that any one could take a pick and dig it out; but old Sam Pemperion had been working a tunnel with no success, and I dare say he got impatient."

"How much of the land 'round there did he own, Miss Columbine?" asked Luke.

"That I can't tell you; but it was plenty anyway, and the hard tales they tell of his getting rich as a prospector at Cripple Creek probably made him furious that his own acres were useless save as pasture land. So at last he determined to make use of the prevailing excitement to feather his nest, and the idea which he carried out with exceeding shrewdness, as you shall hear, was this: "I sometimes wonder," went on Miss Columbine dramatically, "if old Marsh Pemperion dreamed his hoax on the night of his death, or if he lay in his bed in the long, still hours of night in that peaceful valley, and planned it out. At any rate, he made a trip to Cripple Creek to purchase some gold ore; and a week or two later he emerged from his tunnel stammering with excitement and both hands full of nuggets!"

"I'll say your friend Pemperion must have been a New England landowner," observed Jack.

"He was no friend of mine, Jack Nelson, nor of Father's either, I am glad to say. For that illusive dream of his, that his father's dream was the direct result of this fraudulent scheme of his. It was easy enough to start a gold excitement. The news traveled rapidly, as such news always does; and it wasn't long before the stampede began. There was pandemonium at that lovely valley. People staking out claims—starting tunnels—buying town lots which Pemperion himself marked out and sold at sky-high prices. One fortune teller woman who had paid twenty-five dollars for a strip of land in that locality a year before, sold it during that time for ten thousand! That sounds incredible now, but it's the way things go in boom days. I've seen it happen.

"Two thousand a thousand people, possibly twice that number came pouring in. The town was incorporated; a man named Tyler was made mayor, and all these names I can't recall was sheriff. When I saw the place there were no less than a dozen saloons—three general stores—a long line of frame houses or tents, and even two ore-crushing machines, though not one ounce of precious metal was ever discovered in the vicinity."

"What became of the people when the bubble burst?"

"Drifted away, poor souls, leaving their dead behind them—their high hopes crushed. I recall one family stopping at our house for water, and Father bringing them in to be fed and warmed. They were a pitiful sight; the young mother frail and worn by hardship, the father in ragged shirt and trousers, and an ailing baby. They promised to let us know how things went with them, but we never heard."

"Ships that pass in the night," said Matthew softly, and Luke broke in:

"But will you tell us how old Pemperion escaped being tarred and feathered when the hoax was discovered?"

"For the very good reason," replied Miss Columbine, "that the scam was nowhere to be found! When the boom was at its height he disappeared; and now all that is left of the 'ghost city' which bore his name are those tumble-down little shacks (one of which cost a woman five thousand dollars, I was told), and that small burying ground where some of those who were too frail to survive the rigors of frontier life."

"It'll like to see that place," said Nancy, as Cousin Columbine ceased speaking.

"You shall, my dear; and we'll have an excursion out on the plains as well. They can be so beautiful, our western prairies, that I hate to think how cruel they sometimes are."

"That ageless questioner, I'm puzzled," said Jack. "You mean those sudden blizzards when the grazing cattle have no shelter? Well, this winter's snow, Cousin Columbine, and if you've no objection I'll start getting acquainted with the plains to-morrow. I've got a marvelous time with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"I'm glad to hear that," said a new woman, Nancy Nelson, remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed the night of the blizzard. I'll put in with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

you wouldn't go, Nancy. There's something in the air this morning that I don't like."

"Now don't you worry, Miss Columbine," soothed Matthew. "If there's the least suspicion of bad weather, we'll keep safe at Uncle Tom's until it's over."

This seemed reasonable; and as they were good-luck a robin hopped down from a spruce tree and began to sing, the morning broke, and the breakfast at Miss Columbine's bird board. But even this emblem of the springtime failed to cheer her.

"I ought to have set my foot down," she said soberly when Aurora Tubbs arrived an hour later. "I don't like the air."

The sun played hide and seek all morning, and at last retired behind a cloud and stayed there. At noon a wind sprang out of the north, rattling the shutters of the Nelson mansion with sudden fury; and ten minutes later a heavy blizzard began to shut them in. Columbine Nelson kept going to a window and looking out. Her lunch was being most untasted. Twice she ran down at the telephone and then turned away, knowing that if there were anything to say Eve Adam would have called her.

The storm increased; and at half past four, after moving about the house, she saw Miss Columbine stood so long at the front window that Aurora, who had been curiously silent during those dragging hours, burst out: "Don't you keep fretting! You shall see. It makes me sick to see you so worried. If you wouldn't start if it was storming in the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

you wouldn't go, Nancy. There's something in the air this morning that I don't like."

"Now don't you worry, Miss Columbine," soothed Matthew. "If there's the least suspicion of bad weather, we'll keep safe at Uncle Tom's until it's over."

This seemed reasonable; and as they were good-luck a robin hopped down from a spruce tree and began to sing, the morning broke, and the breakfast at Miss Columbine's bird board. But even this emblem of the springtime failed to cheer her.

"I ought to have set my foot down," she said soberly when Aurora Tubbs arrived an hour later. "I don't like the air."

The sun played hide and seek all morning, and at last retired behind a cloud and stayed there. At noon a wind sprang out of the north, rattling the shutters of the Nelson mansion with sudden fury; and ten minutes later a heavy blizzard began to shut them in. Columbine Nelson kept going to a window and looking out. Her lunch was being most untasted. Twice she ran down at the telephone and then turned away, knowing that if there were anything to say Eve Adam would have called her.

The storm increased; and at half past four, after moving about the house, she saw Miss Columbine stood so long at the front window that Aurora, who had been curiously silent during those dragging hours, burst out: "Don't you keep fretting! You shall see. It makes me sick to see you so worried. If you wouldn't start if it was storming in the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "When I think of the blizzard that began, Aurora, Mark'll be with me on the way back, and he's real level-headed, he'd say: 'There's nothing to be afraid of.'"

THE CROP TESTING PLAN

As in past years the Companies associated with the "Crop Testing Plan" will again accept samples of wheat from farmers for testing for trueness to variety, free of charge, in growing plots next summer. Thousands of farmers have increased their incomes by having their grain tested by us under this plan. See the nearest Searle Agent about having YOUR wheat tested. It will be to your benefit.

SEARLE GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

PIONEER GRAIN

COMPANY LIMITED

OPERATORS OF
COUNTRY ELEVATORS
LICENSED & BONDED

DISCUSS YOUR GRAIN
HANDLING & MARKETING
PROBLEMS WITH OUR AGENT

George Rottle Arrowwood E. Dean Donald Yull Marshallburg Shulman J. Taylor J. W. Gilmartin Sault Ste. Marie

TRAIN SCHEDULE AT GLEICHEN

FROM WEST

No. 2—8:40 a.m.
No. 4—9:57 p.m.
No. 14—10:23 p.m. Does not stop
FROM EAST
No. 1—8:15 p.m.
No. 3—5:55 a.m.
No. 13—5:19 a.m. Does not stop.

E. D. ARCHAMBAULT

Barber - Arrowwood
Patronize Home Industry and Keep the Money in Our Own Town
Arrowwood Barber Shop

It is better to have insurance and not need it than to need it and not have it. see Omer Larsen

Now's the Time to Change your old black Light Bulbs, they cost you more money to burn
Bring in your radio tubes—We test them FREE

L. H. PHILLIPS

MALT
for digestion

YEAST
for vitality

HOPS
for Appetite

beer is best

Served at all Hotels and Clubs or order from your nearest Vendor's
Store, or Government Warehouse.

ARROWWOOD ITEMS

Miss Edna Beagle was a visitor to Calgary on Tuesday.

Miss Vera Hesketh is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Furgurson of Gleichen.

Don't fail to visit the C.P.R. Tree Planting Car at Arrowwood, Sept. 18 to 22

The U.F.W.A. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. E. Brown.

Dr. E. J. Liesemer is attending the Medical Convention being held in Calgary this week.

Mr. Irwin Scott left last Friday for Vulcan, where he will spend two weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward and Mrs. James Ward were visitors to Calgary Sunday.

Mrs. G. Forest Kemper and daughter, Betty Ann, left last week for Troy, Kansas, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Fonger were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. McIlvina, of High River.

The members of the Mapleleaf Club will meet at the Taylor home on Friday, Sept. 18th, at 8 p.m.

The Ladies' Social Credit Group will meet in Arrowwood Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 30, at 2:30 o'clock. Each member is reminded to bring a plate.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack W. Lyle and three children, of Calgary, accompanied by Miss Palmer, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lyle.

Don't forget the Tea, Business Men's Supper and Apron Sale Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19th, given by St. Columbus Altar Society, in the Social Credit Hall.

Mr. W. E. Bishop returned Friday evening for his home in Vancouver, after having visited with Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Liesemer for the past six weeks.

See posters for auction sale to take place on Wednesday, Sept. 23rd, commencing at 11 a.m., when Mr. E. E. Bell will sell all his farm implements and household equipment. Mr. C. C. Robbe, of Vulcan, will be the auctioneer. Terms are cash and everything goes without reserve as Mr. Bell is leaving the district immediately after the sale.

Bow Valley Resource

Independent

Advertising rates furnishing on request.

Subscription—$2.00 a year in Canada; $2.50 in the United States. Published every Thursday morning at Arrowwood, Alberta.

All advertising and changes of copy must be in our hands by Wednesday noon.

NORMAN G. GARY,
Publisher

Miss Beth Beagle spent the week-end visiting friends in Calgary.

Mrs. Scott of Vulcan, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. F. Johnson last Friday.

We are pleased to hear Mrs. W. Schultz is doing so well after her recent operation.

Mrs. P. H. Coleman, Teacher of Piano, Vocal, Harmony and Form, Piano class work in the Arrowwood School every Friday at 3:30 p.m.

Mr. C. C. Robbe, the well known auctioneer at Vulcan, was in Arrowwood last Friday, making arrangements for Mr. E. E. Bell's auction sale on Wednesday, Sept. 23rd.

We regret to hear of the death of Mrs. G. Nelson who passed away suddenly at her home south of Queenstown on Sunday, September 13th. Although in poor health for some time, Mrs. Nelson had been up and around the day before.

Remember the date of E. E. Bell's unreserved auction sale—Wed., Sept. 23rd, at 11 a.m. at his residence in Arrowwood. The list of farm implements contains a complete line of machinery to operate a large farm and is in first class shape. The quality and condition of the household furniture is above the average.

HOUSE PLANTS FOR SALE—Anyone desiring house plants call at Mrs. J. S. Culp's.

COCKERELS FOR SALE—Single Comb White Leghorns and Single Comb Rhode Island Reds, from approved flocks. Get your breeding stock early while you can have your pick. Apply, Mrs. R. G. Bell.

CLIFFORD MANN

Harness and Shoes Repaired. Work Done Neatly and Promptly, at a reasonable price. One block east and one block north of Red and White Store

The Game Act, 1936

(Continued from page 1)
mentioned Rivers.

Bag Limit for Ducks

The holder of any such license shall not kill or take in any one day more than twelve ducks and shall not take in one season more than one hundred ducks.

Bag Limit for Geese

The holder of any such license shall not kill or take in any one day more than five geese, or more than twenty-five geese in the season for which the license is issued.

Open Season for Hungarian Partridge

The holder of a General License or a Game Bird License may hunt, shoot at, take or kill Hungarian Partridge between Oct. 5th and Nov. 30th, both dates inclusive in that part of the Province lying south of the North Saskatchewan River. Bag Limit, not more than fifteen in one day, or in any one season more than one hundred.

The ALBERTA PACIFIC GRAIN CO., LTD.

— a good Company,
to do Business with

FEDERAL GRAIN

LIMITED

OPERATING TERMINAL ELEVATORS FOR WILMONT-PORT GARLAND-THUNDER
425 COUNTRY ELEVATORS THROUGHOUT THE WEST
101 COAL SHEDS
Our Service and Facilities Guarantee Satisfaction

Let Us Supply You
With Your

Printing Requirements

Bow Valley Resource
Arrowwood

The WAGIN' TUNG

Vol. 6, No. 1. Arrowwood, Sept. 17, 1936. Items for Thot

Offers most for your money. The Gum Dipped Cord makes fast driving safer and lengthens the life of the tire. To make your winter driving a pleasure let us supply your needs.

Larsen's Implements

"House of Service"
ARROWWOOD and MOSSLEIGH